After reading “Generating Political Priority for Neonatal Mortality Reduction in Bangladesh” and listening to the presentation on the Fundamentals of the Policy Process, answer the following questions. Select one person to be the recorder and another person to be the presenter for your small group.

1. What policy(ies) changed?

2. Considering the model of policy change that we discussed in the presentation, categorize activities and events in the article into the three spheres below:
3. Considering the model of policy change that we discussed in the presentation, categorize activities and events in the article into the three characteristics below:

Policy Communities:

Policy/Program Learning:

Attention Focusing:

4. Describe which of the “characteristics” helped the issue reach the national agenda.

5. Do you think this case example can be generalized or replicated elsewhere? Why or why not?

6. Note any observations, comments, or questions that members of your group have.

Ensure at least one person takes detailed notes on each answer. Groups will share back their responses for one or more questions, as directed by the facilitator.